no Q shit or hope here this is factual info

read the pic slowly cause if you reply with:
>pence can’t just choose who wins >pence can’t throw out results >you need both the house and senate to agree to the objection
>no one will object >Pence is compromised and will give it to Biden >anything involving the phrase “Supreme Court” >anything implying Biden somehow wins then you are too low IQ to understand a 2 paragraph image and 3 simple laws intersecting

as the pic explains, the EO & DNI report set a win/win trap where there are 2 outcomes: give the election to Trump, or give it to Biden officially making it an insurrection which immediately starts martial law via the insurrection act to arrest everyone and Trump stays in office

here’s an explanation of the EO and how it set wartime measures to allow the DNI to create this sting, and how the DNI report works:

https://youtu.be/HdNAelYNssM

if you are smart enough to understand this small amount of information then you’ll know that the dueling electors is irrelevant (just a backup), Pence doing anything is irrelevant (DNI report invalidates the electors to bring Biden under 270), the Supreme Court is not involved in any way in this, and Pence can’t “back out” because that would give Biden the election which would be insurrection (because of the DNI report showing fraud) so he would be included in the treason category and face military tribunal and potentially execution for knowingly subverting the election for China

if you can find a betting site for Trump staying in office on Inauguration Day, throw everything you can spare into it. the media and tech censoring this info means the betting odds are stupid like 10-20x returns because the general public thinks Biden is a guaranteed win and has no idea about any of this they should go to DC if they can. the more MAGA support in the streets the more incentive congress has to follow the constitution to avoid walking out into a crowd of 50,000 angry MAGAs and the less likely Antifa & BLM are to fuck around while you guys celebrate because as explained in the OP: there is no “ignoring the constitution”. if they do, the EO triggers the insurrection act and they get arrested to face military tribunals and potential execution

2018 EO set up a State of Emergency that let the DNI monitor the election. their report goes to Trump & Pence and the fraud that it shows disqualifies the electors for the swing states bringing Biden under 270. if Biden is given the election it becomes an insurrection and anyone involved including Pence if he doesn’t show the DNI report, faces military tribunal & potential execution for colluding with China. Trump either wins or they hang and he wins. no other outcome is possible

it’s all probable just do bare minimum research. read the EO or watch the vid I linked in the OP. the Powell binder that dropped is just a fraction of what the DNI report has. by declaring a State of Emergency in the EO the DNI had free reign to set up a sting. they let them cheat during the 2018 elections so they would get cocky and not change their methods for the 2020 one none of this is cope or wishful thinking. you can read the EO yourself

Then why write the EO such that it allows for an unholy smack down to be laid upon conspirators if he's just going to balk?

See, here's the funny thing about all of this. We are debating in the realm of known law and known executive orders. The president has PEADS and shit tucked away that neither congress nor we know about. Ask yourself if you are trump, why are you summoning a very, very pissed off voter base to DC? You know they're coming armed and some militias will do violence.

As some false threat of rebellion to intimidate congress? So he can have a massive victory lap with his base? Or because he does not plan to use the military for his counter coup attempt? There is a reason why he wants a huge amount of loyalists in DC, and it won't be for a pity party, I can assure you. Watch what happens mate.

use your critics thinking skills. just read the OP and use your brain. the EO set a State of Emergency giving the DNI extra power to set up a sting. the DNI report shows fraud. fraud means the electors are invalid. if Pence somehow choses to ignore the fraud he's been informed of and gives it to Biden then it's insurrection. if Congress somehow ignores Pence and gives it to Biden then it's insurrection. insurrection = immediate martial law and military taking over the legal system. Trump stays in office no matter what go and show your support cause they need you to help scare off the Antifa and BLM riots when this happens. but bring some beer too cause you will be celebrating

You know neither stops congress or the courts from rescinding those orders, yes? If Trump tries to declare martial law, congress will rescind it or scotus will rule the declaration unconstitutional. If he tries to declare insurrection, the courts again will slap him down.

this anon gets it. Pence is the check & balance if congress is corrupt. the military is the check & balance if Pence is corrupt. and the people are the check & balance if the military is corrupt
any and all of these. the ideal outcome is they just give it to Trump and plea deals go on behind the scenes to let off low level people in exchange for high level ones and no massive civil war. but Trump always has multiple outs and creates win/win situations for himself

Point, which is why I'm contributing.
>You know they're coming armed and some militias will do violence.
Some melee violence, probably, but I really doubt many are coming armed given DC's arms laws. You have to imagine that (((they))) are salivating at the opportunity of rounding up Trump supporters on illegal weapons charges and many are aware of that. Sure, some will have some packages tucked away in their cars for contingencies but Trump wouldn't be gathering his supporters together if he thought there was a real threat of violence.

DNI report shows collusion with China. Pence is privy to it. if he chooses not to show it then he is knowingly allowing China to subvert the election. that’s collusion with a hostile foreign government during a State of Emergency. it’s very simple

The bad thing is how deeply rooted the subversion in not only our nation is, but the whole world. Everyone would say Trump and co. are turning into the new rise of National Socialism (I wish) for enacting powers granted to them by our constitution. We'd have to become the monsters they want, because to uproot this weed strangling our country would require mccarthyism on steroids, or outright executing anyone with dissenting opinions. It would be highly irresponsible and negligent to allow those with Marxist tendencies to remain as they are.

I'm all for physically assaulting marxists, and cancelling them. I'm working on being a crew boss on a fire team. You would not believe how many openly Marxist people work on wildland firefighting crews. I'd immediately fire them for expousing political extremism and support of actual genocide.

there's no faith involved. you only think that because you've let the shills and media work you up into an emotional state about this and confuse you. stop and think with very simple logic through this:
>the Powell binder is more than enough to show fraud, from the dominion machines algorithms and chain of ownership to the testimonies to connections to China etc >Powell has 7 more binders worth of that >the EO sets a State of Emergency which lets the DNI have free reign >is the DNI likely to have more or less evidence of fraud than that one Powell binder. probably more right?
>Pence as VP is privy to the DNI meetings and report, so what the DNI knows, Pence knows >so if Pence chooses not to present the DNI's findings on Jan 6th, and he knows they've found fraud, logically he would be going against the DNI and giving the election to the proven Chinese candidate which is insurrection there's no blind faith anon. just think it through

None of that will happen. Noticed how rhetoric from republicans has slowly been dieing down? Even Trumps language has been changing slowly. At this stage, they've already accepted the result. Trump will not invoke any insurrection act, he doesn't have the balls and his family has too much to lose if shit goes tits up. They are afraid of the system as much as any other politician. Ok, I buy it anon. I've kept these things in mind when not falling for the "It's Over" meme:

> Trump has demonstrated mastery of the Art of War over and over, in full public view. One of those points is appear weak when you are strong.
> Trump is a showman, undeniably... so it's surprising the "stop the steal" effort has been hardly more than a slow, wet fart. Conversely, if there ever was going to be an undoing of this whole mess, it would have to be like the best movie climax x1000.
> He's known and tweeted about election fraud since 2013, and obviously had the backing of the NSA as early as 2016 (publicly known - see Adm. Rogers row with then Obama admin)

But maybe there's a more interesting question. I presume these baddies aren't just going to lay down and die, so anyone want to postulate on the options still on the table for them? What would they do to try to subvert OPs timeline of events?

you have to understand, as I explained in the OP, it's not about if Pence chickens out or not. he has evidence of fraud from the DNI. even if they killed his whole family it wouldn't matter because the second he chooses to not show that evidence to disqualify the electors, he is colluding with China and committing a war crime, possibly the WORST one because the average congress member isn't privy to the DNI report and like the random poll staff Shaquayna or corrupt local judge isn't either. but Pence would be KNOWINGLY going against the DNI evidence to help China. that would be the ultimate treason possible and he would hang from the strongest rope of them all

Pence is GTFO afterward so the secret service only has to worry about Trump's family and the MAGAs are summoned there to help make it hard to get to Trump and fight against him because they are going all in with their lies or believe the media hype when they start calling on "true patriot's" whose duty it is to fight dictators. There is no peaceful option. Even if Trump folds in the end just to try to run in 2024, you might think there's a peaceful transition, but there will be more race riots, more red flag gun grabs, more false flags, etc.

Again, peace is not an option.

that was on purpose. no normie believes the system is as corrupt as it is. even half of /pol/ was surprised at how blatant and brazen they were cheating on election night and the weeks afterward. Jan 6th has always been the plan, the court attempts along the way were just to reveal how corrupt the entire system is from the poll stations all the way up the court ladder to the SC and congress itself

Trump has always been about discrediting and destroying his opponents, not just winning. look how few people trust CNN now when in 2014 average people thought it was a legitimate news source. the goal of this whole sting has been to reveal the extent of the corruption so he can put in voter ID and proper poll watching and audits etc for the future

The one problem I have with this hypothesis is that the assessment was due 45 days after the election. The report isn’t due until 90 days after the election. That isn’t until Feb 3. Hopefully the report will be complete early or the assessment is sufficient.

finally an anon who uses his brain. good work. the funny part is this is literally his standard art of the deal play he’s been running since day 1 that they fall for: set a trap, let them fall into it, feign weakness and let them get cocky and taunt him for a few news cycles (“trump did this and it’s horrible omg”), then reveal the twist so they discredit themselves (“actually your guy did it” “oh uhhh actually here’s why it’s okay”), and show that he actually had the winning hand before he even picked the fight. and as always this is a win/win situation where either he wins or they go to prison and he wins. he’s been setting up those no-win scenarios for them since day one (like this $2000 Covid relief)
>But maybe there's a more interesting question. I presume these baddies aren't just going to lay down and die, so anyone want to postulate on the options still on the table for them? What would they do to try to subvert OPs timeline of events?
the only real option is offing Trump somehow or false flags to disrupt congress on the 6th. these are extreme but these people are facing literally life or death and backed into a corner so I wouldn’t put anything past them

Been thinking this for a while. There is no chance Trump has done everything he's done and survived (politically although maybe literally as well) everything he's survived without having a real team behind him.

The media loves to portray him as out on an island surrounded by chaos and traitors which means it's not true and the opposite is at least closer to the truth.

This is one of the more retarded posts I've ever seen on /pol/, so congratulations for that.

1- The DNI report never came out. It was due weeks ago.
2- Nobody, and I mean nobody, outside of /pol/ thinks any of this will happen.
3- Overturning an election at this point will require a military coup and will 100% result in a civil war. Not overturning the election will lead to conservative kvetching but ultimately nothing aside from a Biden presidency. It's obvious which is the easier route.
4- You have N O T H I N G in the way of an inkling of evidence to suggest Trump, in a move that would make Andrew Jackson look like a bootlicker, in less than a month will take over the federal government via military force like Julius Caesar. The mobilization necessary to do this would be very obvious. This is the point pol-faggots never understand. It takes a little more than Delta Force storming the capitol building.
5- The legal infrastructure for these supposed Nuremburg Trials to try gaggles of government officials and employees for treason simply does not exist.

ya that's why he won't pass it with the pork. the pork shows how they launder money to other countries under bullshit SJW programs, but the important part is the line preventing him from using the insurrection act that works out positively in two ways: it shows the DNC has finally just figured out exactly how fucked they are, I'm sure this completely blindsided them because the EO was so long ago and they still think he's too dumb to do this kind of thing, and any Repub who's promoting that bill as-is is revealing themselves to be part of the swamp since they want him to not be able to use the insurrection act either aka they're probably guilty of something

this is all a beautiful plan and execution it's a shame the shills are preventing anyone from seeing it or understanding it with their "this is Q tard shit" spamming so no one reads the OP

but the EO classifies anyone pushing propaganda etc as colluding with China to subvert American democracy, so it's theoretically possible that when CNN calls him an invalid president etc they may get arrested for it which would be awesome but I doubt he would bother with that cause that would look fascist to normies

I do agree those are two options, especially given the potential hellfire that could rain on China if this goes through. We're talking about the entire viability of the Chinese Communist Party... and we all know they're not above being unscrupulous. Here's another thought though...

>intimidation into capitulation
I think this is the reason for all the demoralization shill posts: they think if they can erode Trump's base support, they can convince him to take a deal that would provide him with an out from all the consequences we already mentioned. Of course I'm sure he knows they're full of shit, the Trump name will be mud from here on out (pardon or not). That also leads me to believe that Trump's base support staying resolute is a critical factor for success in whatever ensues. I wonder why that would be...

Good pull anon. My guess is the assessment is the actionable intel, and the report is the collated, formatted version for public consumption. PUBLIC CONSUMPTION. With that in mind... It is interesting that these timeframes were chosen (before and after the potential big event in this case). Conversely, it wouldn't do much good to have the actionable portion re: election fraud not be due until after the swearing in happens - not when you could literally put any deadline on it you want. Unless, of course, it was done on purpose...

flexible schedule makes it harder for the other side to counter it. if it arrived on time they’d have 2 weeks to find a way to leak it and counter what’s in it. plus that would be 2 weeks less evidence collecting. a lot of swamp people are making a lot of panicked calls and txts to eachother over this Xmas and the EO means free reign on monitoring all of that. why submit the report early and miss including all that good stuff?

also delaying the EO means that deadline Pence had to tell the states he wouldn’t include their electors gets subverted. because he doesn’t have the report so he doesn’t “know” he’s going to disqualify them until he has it. if he had it before that deadline he’d have to tell them. the report will come right at the last minute just like how Trump, the showman, knows a good season finale climax should play out

this. when I saw the dueling electors and EO etc I was like ok either he's literally Batman and has been studying the constitution and electoral process in his bat cave for 40 years or he's got some good guys inside who came up with this and he's the frontman. it makes sense too, there's always a few good cops in the corrupt department, they just can't do anything until the time is right or they get squashed. it wouldn't surprise me if this was all set up before Trump even ran after the swearing in happens - not when you could literally put any deadline on it you want. Unless, of course, it was done on purpose...

>also delaying the EO means that deadline Pence had to tell the states he wouldn’t include their electors gets subverted. because he doesn’t have the report so he doesn’t “know” he’s going to disqualify them until he has it. if he had it before that deadline he’d have to tell them. the report will come right at the last minute just like how Trump, the showman, knows a good season finale climax should play out

Your interpretation of the EO and of the situation is accurate.

HOWEVER, if the DNI fails to issue a full and accurate report, then neither Pence nor Trump has any ammunition to work with.

Do you have any evidence that the DNI has issued an adequate report? Because, as far as I can tell, no report has yet come out.

The cope keeps going strong, as these pathetic shills keep writing fanfics about Trump's latest 4D chess move which will definitely no doubt invalidate an election where he was overwhelmingly blacked. These last 2 months have been incredible, and proof that conservatives are even more pathetic than the libtards they claim to intellectually and emotionally reign over.

that's where Kav & crew obey the constitution since the DNI report shows absolute evidence of fraud since it was a sting. if Kav & crew choose not to, they hang. personally I think they didn't hear the Texas case on purpose (and it was presented on purpose knowing they didn't have standing) because the SC refusing to hear it sets the insurrection act card in play since there was no legal challenge to the election possible. so they escalated things to war crime punishments for the swamp by not hearing the case

ironically all of this could have been avoided if the courts had just heard and thrown out the cases. but the left is too cocky

Well, they do have an administrative due process. I'm not familiar with how that would impact timelines when a tribunal tries a civilian. At the least, you'll need a writ in a reasonable time. Discovery might also drag out. And a civilian will probably try appealing to the Supreme Court (though I don't think the court will hear it, due to lack of jurisdiction).

That also leads me to believe that Trump's base support staying resolute is a critical factor for success in whatever ensues. I wonder why that would be...
you got it anon. thank god someone else around here is thinking deeper than meme shit. they thought they could pressure Trump and his base into conceding by just pretending Biden won and censoring everything. they don't understand why MAGAs support Trump because they believe their own stereotypes about us and think we're just dumb or brainwashed, and they have no principles themselves so they can't understand the idea that we would ride this train straight to hell on principle alone. and they don't read or watch our content so they don't understand that this is the end of the west for us. if they are allowed to steal the election there are no more elections or democracy, they will flood the country with 3rd world refugees and steal every future election so the 2A and a potential civil war everyones children and grandchildren have to deal with will be the only option unless Trump wins

this isn't even accounting for if it's shown that Covid and lockdowns was part of the CCP trying to destroy the economy to help make Trump lose etc like all over addressed here is the election fraud, but this could potentially be a lot bigger

Hi leafbro, I remember the other thread. I'm skeptical of a lot of stuff here but I admire your style of replying to shills. I consider myself pretty well informed on what's going on but I still feel like I'm missing parts here that make you feel confident, where I don't.

>The first report was apparently delayed, and to my understanding wouldn't even by received by the right people until January so even the admin doesn't know the full extent of what happened
>So it's possible that on the 6th, Mike Pence won't have much more than we already know
>Furthermore this isn't public yet until a later report, so if they act on it without proving in the court of public opinion by letting people know some of the details, it can and will be easily spun as a coup against democracy
>So even if Pence knows, there would be a lot of pressure on him to fold
>We don't really have a straight answer if the dueling elector votes were actually received or not
>A lot of the decisions within congress are going to depend on the people who vowed to speak up acting on their words and not folding
>Best case scenario the electoral votes in those states are thrown out and this goes to the house floor, this then would require that the US representatives for their states vote on party line and GOP representatives don't fold and vote how their state voted.
>We might even see representatives in red states decide that the state goes to Biden just as a good measure, referencing popular vote or some bullshit
I don't like saying this but I don't see how this moves forward peacefully. Any thoughts?

the other anon linked where I've explained that. but also use common sense: if you ran a 2 year long sting operation and knew you had to make a report would you wait till it was over to start the report? no you'd have someone documenting everything on day 1 so by the end 90% of the report is already done this. they know the dictator thing is an easy label because NO ONE understands any of what’s explained in the OP especially not normies. I have normie friends who genuinely think Biden won on election night because CNN called it for him. that’s also why this has been a slow process, the last 2 months were to show normies how corrupt the system was and to look like Trump tried to go through all the legal channels and to win enough people onto the “ok it does seem a bit sketch” side of things to help counter the dictator coup narrative compared to if he just went for the throat on day one and everyone is like holy shit he IS a dictator as always he’s given them every opportunity to back down and do the right thing and as always they’ve refused to Canada, it hurts.

I remember mama's boss (he was a top oncologist) telling how nice was Canada.
How safe were the streets, how peaceful and blissful was living there. How roads were well-kept and no-one stole copper wires and how liveleak-tier crimes (that happen almost daily here) were non-existent. He would often say those were the only times in his life (he's rich enough to afford private guards and has a bullet-proof car) when he felt safe.
Then you tell me it's all being fucked up, piece by piece, welfare-leeching refugee by refugee... It hurts too much, bro.
Leave it. Sooner shitholes will be safer than your street.

>Do you have any further evidence that Ratcliffe has put evidence into the actual report?
simple logic. we’ve seen the Powell binder drop and anything Powell knows Ratcliffe knows. the Powell binder alone is enough to disqualify the electors. so if there’s been an active investigation which is confirmed since there’s a DNI report at ALL, and that report must have more than Powell has, then logically the report will have the evidence we need it to have. I’m guessing it’ll officially drop on Pence’s desk on the 5th or morning of the 6th and he likely already knows what’s in it because he is part of the DNI meetings >I'd also appreciate any insight you have into how to hold Congress accountable for considering and acting consistently with the report?
that’s why Trump wants the MAGA crowd out there. the insurrection act uses the military to hold congress accountable but if the military for some reason disobeys the president then the MAGAs finally get to use the 2A but that would be messy. ideally the second they say “no we will ignore this evidence and give it to Biden”, the military takes over under martial law and the swamp members in congress get immediately arrested and face military tribunals (military court with no due process and executions available, Google “Trump firing squad executions” he brought them back for this)
>For example, have any Senators indicated that they intend to read the report into the record on or before Jan 6?
Pence is the only one besides Trump and the DNI who sees the report because it’s national security and as VP he’s the only one who’s informed on those things incase Trump dies. so congress will likely not have even read the report or know it exists
>Thank you for this thread, by the way.

they won’t be civilians though, they’ll be war criminals. that’s the whole point of the EO and the DNI report showing conclusive fraud and CCP collusion. it won’t be like normal court processes because the severity of the crime is like the worst type of treason possible. I don’t know the exact process but either way the point is they’ll have these people dead to rights so whether they go through trial immediately or in 6 months when it’s their turn doesn’t matter, the point is Trump will stay in office. (I suspect he’ll let some of them make plea deals to give up others etc I’m sure he doesn’t want to actually have people executed, but it’s like when he fights with North Korea about pressing the big red button, the show of force and hinting he COULD do it is necessary to make them realize not to fuck around)

It does seem like this is a process of flushing out all of the malevolent actors (especially those playing double agent). The way you get them to expose themselves is by convincing everyone that it's already over, and that you don't have a hand left to play. I think this is why that "leak" happened from Patrick Byrne talking about how Trump's entire inner staff is against him... they're just swiffering up the remaining fence sitters.

Desperation.

However, this is about the fate of humanity - the United States is quite literally the only nation on Earth with such freedoms as recognized and guaranteed by our constitution. If, God forbid, China eclipse the United States as the world superpower, then all of humanity may never obtain Freedom again.

We are looking at much worse than an Orwellian nanny state censorship dystopia - if you are aware of these creeps' plans - and yes this includes the kikes, not just china, they want mass death to kill off a large portion of the population - they were really hoping to get that with Coronachan, but it wasn't as deadly as they had wanted.
This is about saving America, and consequently saving the world.

I understand fully what the OP pic implies. I 100% recognize this is a technical path to victory for Trump. This, if done, would work and it is a 100% valid strategy. That said-

It is not going to happen you absolutely braindead nigger. You ever wonder why the goal posts and date keeps moving? It's to keep you complacent. On the 6th Trump will announce his 2024 campaign, and you will all forget about this "crossing the rubicon" stuff that you KNEW, deep down, was far too fantastical to ever take place, and you will replace it with "Trump is going to drain the swamp for realsies in 2024!".... you will sit surrounded by your rhetoric and feel-good threats of an impending onslaught of nationalist justice for four years, then eight, and then you will realize all-too-late that everything was lost in 2020. You will wonder what would have happened if you had tried to do something about it after November. You will muse about it. You will offer your hindsight to other worn out and depressed nationalists who are well past their fighting age. You will cope by saying the youngsters nowadays couldn't do the job the way you hypothetically, theoretically, could have if you knew to do it years ago. This is your future.

>The first report was apparently delayed addressed above search the thread for DNI report on why there's likely delays and why the report has likely been worked on for 2 years already
>So it's possible that on the 6th, Mike Pence won't have much more than we already know
Pence as VP sits in on the DNI meetings because if Trump dies the VP needs to be up to speed on national security shit. no one below Pence (congress etc) would be privy to this info. Pence knows what the DNI knows, the report is more a formality
>Furthermore this isn't public yet until a later report, so if they act on it without proving in the court of public opinion by letting people know some of the details, it can and will be easily spun as a coup against democracy correct unfortunately. but you have to plug the hole before you bail the water out. Jan 6th is to secure the election, then public opinion can be managed. most likely they plan to let CNN go on about treason and how the punishment should be military executions and then the public report shows CNN colluded with the CCP and oops lol Trump has done that move before

This entire thing is one huge LARP. I'd be VERY surprised if something like this happens. If it did it would surely lead to civil war.

Problem is too many people are comfy, have houses/cars/jobs etc and would not give all that up. I'm one of them. Plus, my FAR did not even come in yet. I would only fight if i were forced into it.

everything was lost in 1992 when Pat Buchanan failed to secure the Republican nomination. That was the time at which the tide could have been turned and the good parts of America could be rejuvenated and restored. If Trump had the whole federal gov't behind him and no mueller investigation he might've been able to do it, but this is not what happened.

Frankly I think the whole thing is just a way for MAGA people to blow off steam and feel like they're making a difference when they really aren't. If I was more active on social media I might go for networking purposes, but I just can't be bothered. If I was within 500 miles of DC I'd probably go, but I'm pretty damn far

search this thread for my posts on Pence (I'm phonefagging so it's hard to scroll around and link), I cover how even if they kill his daughter or something it doesn't matter, being aware of the DNI evidence of fraud means if he folds then he adds himself to the list of war criminals colluding with China
they're irrelevant. they were a backup plan that won't be necessary (Trump always covers multiple outcomes). the DNI sting evidence disqualifies the electors so those states have no valid electors and Biden goes under 270
>A lot of the decisions within congress are going to depend on the people who vowed to speak up acting on their words and not folding
they don't have to do anything but let Pence present the DNI evidence and allow the disqualifying of the states electors. if they don't allow it then it's insurrection and they face military tribunal

Pence must accept the votes. If he doesn't, he'll get sued to shit, and he'll lose because the judges are bribed/threatened. Jan 6 is just going to be another Trump rally in DC where he tells them to vote Republican so they can control the house and senate and keep fighting for election integrity. DNI report on election interference will come out within the next couple of days, but it won't be anything we haven't seen before. If the DOJ doesn't want to touch it, it's not going to be touched. Trump fucked the timing up on this and put his faith in the wrong people. To say "he waited to weed out the traitors" is pure copium. He knew who the bad eggs were from day one. The only reason he couldn't fire them is because he feared legal ramifications.

right the best option for everyone including the guilty parties who may be able to cut deals etc if things don't qualify as actual insurrection, is what you described and then with Biden under 270 it's contested and the 1 vote per state plays out
>We might even see representatives in red states decide that the state goes to Biden just as a good measure, referencing popular vote or some bullshit
good angle actually I didn't think of that but that would be good for helping takes the wind out of the sails of riot support by the general public and make conservatives not look as evil optically. if they have a bunch of votes to burn, throw a few to Biden and look like they care about democracy still Organize in your state capitol. Or at your Senator's local office. If everyone who can't go to DC went there, it actually might help provide safety for those in DC (they'd know they couldn't excise the "problem" in one fell swoop).

all they had to do was chill out and run some new young charismatic Obama's on a center left platform the last 4 years and they might've legitimately won

As I understand it, martial law involves domestic actions by the US military. The President ALONE is the CinC of the military. Congress and the courts CANNOT stop him from ordering the military to do anything he wants. The only Congressional restraint involves the constitutional requirement that Congress can declare war, but this hasn't really been relevant for decades, and it wouldn't kick in for 90 days in any case, which is plenty of time for Trump to arrest all the traitors.
